

THEN AND NOW.

In 1875 Mr. J. W. Tate carried this county by 210 majority in a vote of 2,295. In 1877, an off year, he carried it by 465 majority. In 1879 he got 1,669 votes, beating his opponent, Stoll, 372 votes. In 1881, without opposition and an off year too, he got 1,532 votes. In 1883 he got 1,870 votes and carried the county by 549 majority. In 1885 he got 1,012 votes and got beaten 230 votes in the county. What's the matter, can the Yeoman see any comfort in these figures to cause it to exult? Is it not a rebuke to the bosses, for assuming to make a nomination without authority? Is it not a warning to those who favored, or were responsible in any way for convict labor? It shows that the Democratic of this county have minds of their own and propose to have a voice in the matter of naming the candidates of the party. It will be a long time before another Democrat will accept the nomination of a few committeemen for a State office.

The Hartford Herald and Patriot Standard are further out in the cold than any others of the kind, but we have reserved warm places for them by the new rising Democratic tide, and we invite them in heartily. —Yeoman.

Thank you. We have never been outside the true Democratic fold. We have been a Democrat from principle and not for the profit of being and hoping to be Public Printer, and are not knocking at the door of the lodge room of the head Sachems of those who seek to control the distribution of spoils. We are a Democrat because Democracy means nation in office. We favor Democracy because its true principles would not tolerate convict labor being worked illegally and without right in opposition to free labor. We favor Democracy because its principles favor a government by the people and do not tolerate or approve a nomination made by a mere handful of men, who have been called together to call a convention. Can the Yeoman say as much? Had we better not open the doors of the Democratic household and let the Yeoman in? It is certainly out in the cold and is ignorant of what Democracy means or teaches.

There are two or three Democratic precincts in Ohio county, but they are not strong enough to carry it for Tate. The county, however, did the decent thing for Sam Hill, and that redeems it. —Yeoman.

Why not tell the truth? There are nine precincts in the county, that usually give Democratic majorities, but the Yeoman's test is an endorsement of the usurpers, in according to themselves the power to name the candidate.

In 1882 "Tom" Henry, with all his drunken, low record, got 518 more votes in this county, than Tate did this time and get the Yeoman would have as believe that the manner in which Tate had been nominated and his connection with the convict labor fraud had been endorsed.

Men to the surprise of some of the knowing ones, John T. Gathright was appointed surveyor of the Port of Louisville. He is a very fine looking gentleman, and one who ranks high as a man of honor, and business qualifications.

The most brilliant, grand and imposing funeral procession ever seen in America, was the one that followed Gen. Grant to his last resting place in New York, last Saturday.

Local Optics.

Local optics was defeated at Rochester by a vote. If the good people of that village will set their heads to work and see to it that the laws are executed against those saloon keepers who violate the law by selling to drunken men and to minors, the owners of the saloons will find such a thorny path to travel that saloon property will be of little more value to them, and they will either quit the business or go to the penitentiary to play it.

On a recent day, as found in the general law of the land is adequate to the protection of the people. Local optics was a fraud if executed. Local optics was a crying one, and if the law is enforced, it is because of the cowardice of those who should be the bone and marrow of the law. If they are enforced, rightly enforced, the country will have little cause to complain of the demoralizing influence of dram shops. —Butler County News.

Kentucky Patents.

The following patents were granted for the week ending Aug. 4, 1885, reported expressly for this paper by J. H. Hunter, Solicitor of American and Foreign Patents, 336 F Street, Washington, D. C.:

J. B. Gathright, Louisville, automatic beer cooler; John Meyer, Covington, beer cooler; C. S. Sneed & Uddolpho Sneed, Louisville, looking device for jacks; Fred H. Hiltel, Louisville, stuffing box; R. R. Hunt, Lexington, car coupling; Fred H. Hiltel, Louisville, conveyor for ice machines.

The Simpson county Agricultural and Mechanical Association, will hold their Annual Fair on their grounds near Franklin, Ky., August 27th, 28th and 29th 1885. Thanks for an invitation to attend.

Rockport Rumblings.

Editor Herald:

Go tell it in Gathright publish it on the streets of Askeford; Nixson has stood in his harness. We've noticed Plato's twosided animals, we've noted the Philistines tip and thigh and my empuishment over. Who? Give me more and less of it. It's a great victory, my dear little Peterkins. None of your Cushman lights, that woe the victor, but a tussle in which the fittest survive. The Ashbury business was pulled entirely too soon; 'taint ripe. We moved that painted and varnished Mender, with double-gang lighting, and an improved, forty-horse clipper, like a whirlwind, and outstayed it to the winds, while I, I trust, am tempered to the poor little shorn lamb. Oh! we are "Jim Dandies." Just give me more and air, while I congratulate all creation in general, and the Eighth District in particular, —Hopkins, Logan and some other counties excepted.

Now let them beat their swords into plow shares, make pruning hooks of their spears, and leave their idols to the bats and moles. Our stately ship plowed through the Eighth District, ran into an old hull, "blasted" it wide open, and now "buckle trim" sails filled, "streamers waving," she walks the waters like a thing of life.

I must again refer to my enthusiastic Rosine friend, J. J. Tillard, who shares with me his exuberance by letter.

The Echo, with a sardonic smile, suggests that Judge F. T. Fox, Jr., domicile in cosmopolitan Ohio county. His keen satire, such as a polished razor, and not without some degree of justice. I'm a Tate man, and always will be, after he is nominated, and wish Ohio county all sorts of prosperity, with a "little," "just a little" more political ease.

Mr. J. P. Maddox has moved to Rockport.

Old Mrs. Young, mother of H. J. Young, has been sick for several days. Mrs. Henry Griffin and her two children are visiting Mrs. Nettie Bell.

One professedly hypocritical, political gentleman, who criticized my last week's article, denies that any negro ever held office in a Republican Administration. This shows just how much ought to be said in reply. "The devil do." "Where got'st thou that good look?" "Shinkspear." "What a d--- I do raise," said the old lady upon the countenance. Such a crime ought to be let him run; his ignorance is his fault. Poor thing! the fool killer has marked him for his own. —Starks.

Three Hundred and Ninety-three.

The above number of years have passed away since on the 31 day of August, 1492, Christopher Columbus, with three small ships and a crew of ninety men, set out on an expedition, on the success of which depended the existence or non-existence of the greatest people that ever reared itself among the family of nations.

On that memorable morning as the gallant men turned their backs upon civilization and their faces to untrodden paths, little did they think they were marking out the way to the home of Freedom's millions yet to be. Sixty days upon the bosom of the broad Atlantic tossed by the merciless waves, and then to find a few small islands inhabited by savages, to return with the accounts of their discoveries that set Europe ablaze with thoughts of a new world, and the work is done. One hundred and fifteen years are required to plant the first English colony in what is now the United States. This, followed by others, increases rapidly in population until one hundred and seventy years more find the greatest man in American history struggling for the independence of his native land. This achieved, faster and faster pours the stream of power and wealth into the coming nation of the West.

On and on, until today what a contrast between this the 31 of August, 1885, and the 31 of August, 1492. Then America was a wilderness unknown to civilization. No flag they lifted its spires toward the sky, no steamboat plowed the gentle rivers, no railroads crossed the wooded land; no schools prepared men for time, nor gospel blessed them for eternity. Today all these are found; and more, as patriotic people as ever told the sands of time now live in peace among the hills and valleys of free America.

The broadest fields of agriculture, the richest veins of mineral wealth are our own instead of savage tribal fields, mounds and caves. The highest places of architecture in the world now stand in our country, where but a few centuries ago perhaps a wigwag stood. Where once the savage made his rude implements of war, now exist manufactures that rival those of the greatest of earth's nations. Where once the wild only sighed through the trees, now electricity carries men's thought with wonderful speed, and steam with its power now doth his will. To-day the printing press scatters knowledge broadcast over the land where ignorance and superstition once bound men's souls. The places that but once knew the yell of the Indian or the howl of the wolf, now know the scenes of civilized life, with its busy toil, its hopeful efforts, and grand achievements.

As time passes, the contrast will be greater until the sun in his orbit will mark America as the garden-spot of the world, and as the country whose influence will be felt while the love of freedom burns on the altar of the human heart. —SCHOOLBOY.

Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me by my druggists as a preventive to Hay Fever. Have been using it as directed since the 9th of August and have found it a specific for that much dreaded and loathsome disease. For ten years or more I have been a great sufferer each year, from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies for its cure, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found. Hay Fever sufferers ought to know of its efficacy.

It had been known for some time that there was a serious affair of the heart existing between the young couple. There was no known opposition to the match.

Last Friday Deputy Collector G. H. Moore and Marshal W. G. Patterson, of Elkhart, captured two moonshiners in Todd county and brought them to this city to be tried before Judge J. L. Lammie. Their names were Samly Lancaster and Joe McNew, and they had been operating in northern Todd near Clifty P. D. They were tried Saturday and Lancaster was released and McNew held over under a bond of $500, in default of which he went to jail. The evidence showed that only about 45 gallons of liquor had been made when the still was broken up. —Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

The Jeffersonian (Ind.) Times says: "Robert Thomas and Hattie McTavick, a youthful couple of Leitchfield, Ky., bent on matrimony, arrived in New Albany early this morning, after undergoing usual hardships, not the least of which was a twenty-five mile ride on a hand-car on the C. O. and N. W. R. R. to escape from pursuers. They applied for license to marry, which was granted by the Mayor of Louisville, and came on to Jeffersonville where they were married at 10 o'clock, by the Rev. Harry Kelwin, at the Sherman House. They returned to Kentucky feeling that now they are one they will be able to stem the tide of wrath that awaits them."

A Gang of Counterfeiters.

Three amateur "coin-makers" were housed in the jail alongside of Alvin Karpis, the boss counterfeit-king, yesterday. They were arrested at Selma, Westchester county, on Wednesday night, and were escorted here in charge of Detective Bauer, of the secret service. A lot of material for making counterfeit gold and silver money, together with a die for a silver dollar, was brought along with them. In the outfit were white metal, copper, zinc, tin and one or two other kinds of metal. The combination of these metals was used in making the spurious money. The men who were arrested are Dr. J. W. Jenkins, Frank Phillips and John Cavanaugh, all of Selma. Joseph Sale, one of the bosses of the gang, escaped, and ran not now be found. All the others had heard that they were wanted, and were preparing to leave when they were arrested.

Levi Mason, a young farmer, was employed by Detective Bauer to get in with the crowd, and he did it well. He gained their confidence on the 1st of July and soon was working with them. It was his intention to make a clean sweep of the crowd, but by some means the Marshal of Selma learned of his movements, and through jealousy exposed him to the counterfeiters. Mr. Mason had to make the arrests at once. Cavanaugh had started to leave, but was overtaken and returned. After the arrest the officers Marshal Bauer took to take the prisoners away from the secret service men, but failed in the effort.

Phillips was the instructor in the process of money manufacture. He was a silver plater by trade and agreed to show the counterfeiters how to make counterfeit for $25 from each. Just how much was made is not known, though there was a good deal of it circulating about. The officers found but little if at all on account of the disclosures made to the gang by the jealous Marshal. Seven or eight dollars found on the men show that the job was a bad one. They were light and after being browbeaten down to pass were very suspicious in looks. They bear date of 1885.

The men were arraigned before United States Commissioner Crall yesterday afternoon. Phillips made a clean breast of his statement and was thorough. His claim that only eight hundred dollars had been made is known to be incorrect. He said that he went into it merely to show the men how to make the money, and that he had not passed a dollar of it. Dr. Jenkins made a fight for himself, employing Attorney Sam McKee for his defense. He expects to show that while he knew all about it, he did not have any part in it. Cavanaugh made much the same plea. The effort is to be made among them that Sale, the man who escaped, did most of the work. The latter is a bad citizen. Mr. Mason shot at him four times when he made his escape, and one shot is thought to have taken effect.

Commissioner Crall bound the whole party over to the United States District Court in the sum of $1,000 each; and in default of this, all went to jail. Dr. Jenkins is a man of family, and it was at his house that the work was done. Phillips hails from Indianapolis. —Commercial.

Life and Hope.

Life is almost as great a mystery as death—and no one knows what death is. You cannot tell me the secrets of mind and matter; you know not the why, the whence, the what, the multitude of the infinite; you never can grasp the full idea of that God who is omnipotent, omnipresent, and omniscient. Life is not always life. It is sometimes but mere existence. Death is not altogether death—only a transition, or a consummation of immortality. Science may resolve some things into what are called constituent elements—but what are these elements? What are oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, ozone and all these elements, ingredients or principles in matter? What is mind? Well, no matter; we are getting far out into the unfathomable, the illimitable and the unknowable. It is a serious question, "Whether life is worth the living?"—and were it not for hope, that looks for better things, and the natural instinct of self-preservation, life would not be lived. Hope, which springs eternal, mitigates the troubles of existence and prepares for the hour of dissolution; but it cannot transfer to a lifeless future. Only faith and obedience can do that, in conformity with the will of God. The promises of hope are sweeter than roses in bud. Many different views of life are taken by many different persons. Some live for all the world, while others exist for one. How circumscribed and small the one, how grand and glorious the other. Life is half spent before one knows what life is, and all do not even then know the truth. Life is a duty to God and to your fellowman; an obedience and a purpose to both God and man.

Now, there are some who teach the doctrine of the "Survival of the Fittest," and thereby they imply that all those who live are the fittest. The implication goes still farther—that it is the will of God that they should live.

Well, all the cunning rascals live—unless they become so high-handed in their devilish or evil games, the either man or the law gives them a quietus of earth. Are these the fittest? Is the man who will buy your labor or your produce, taking advantage of your situation and your needs, for one half its intrinsic value, one who is fit to survive?

No man who will not be generous enough to adopt the motto, "To live and to let live," is unworthy of life. It is right to do what is right. It is just to be just. No matter what your advantage or power may be, or what another's necessity or weakness is, you are morally bound to pay a fair, just price for his labor or produce, and to treat him with consideration; for he has natural rights like yourself.

If those who live for self alone—who are avaricious and tyrannical in his life, are "fittest," who are unfitted? No; "The Fittest" do not always "survive." Give a greedy, selfish man the power, the opportunity and he will prove to you that where might is made justice is servant. Indeed, a covetous man does nothing that he should till he dies.

Wealth, after all, is a relative thing, since he has little, and wants less, is richer than he that has much, but wants more. Let us take into contemplation the fact, that a contented mind is a continual feast, while greed is never satisfied. Besides, the truly good and benevolent are rich in graceful acts and kind words—rich in faith, hope and charity—rich enough for "mansions in the skies." But no estate can make him rich that has a poor heart.

O, poor ones of earth, you have the blessed hope of heaven, if you but serve God. —W. H. CENDRE.

Gross is Economical.

The United States Marshal's office has been conducted by Capt. A. J. Gross, since he took charge, on an economical basis, and he makes a very fair showing for the three months he has been in office. He made a clean sweep of Auxler's appointees and put in Democrats. The report for the first three months shows that the office has been a total expense to the Government of $1,300, and Capt. Gross says he has made collections and replevins for the Government of more money during that time than those made from Washington.

Shank drove him out, but fell dead from the shot in less than five minutes.

Suffering Women! Read what the Great Methodist and Eminent Physician Says of DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR!

ATLANTA, GA., Feb. 20, 1885.

Dr. J. BRADFIELD, Dear Sir:—Some fifteen years ago I examined the recipe of Bradsfield's Female Regulator, and carefully studied authorities in regard to its components, and then, as well as now, pronounced it to be the most scientific and skillful combination of the really reliable remedial agents known to science, to act directly on the womb and uterine organs, and the organs and parts sympathizing directly with these, and, therefore, providing a specific remedy for all for all diseases of the womb, and of the uterine organs and parts. Yours truly, JESSIE BOWMAN, M. D., D. D.

A mad dog was killed by Mr. J. Barrow, at Sulphur Springs Thursday. It is not known whether it bit anything or not.

The post office was closed Saturday from 1 to 5 o'clock P. M. in memory of General Grant. The office was draped in mourning.

Buy your baking powders (good as the Royal) at the Red Front, get a pretty picture and a chance at a fifty-five dollar Singer Sewing Machine.

Mr. James Ashley has moved into the Anderson barns property. He and Mr. C. P. Westerfield have opened a feed and sale stable in the Crow property.

W. H. Coudiff treats our readers this week to an able paper on "The Errors of Government," also, one on "Natural Born Meanings." They are worth a hearing.

Sulphur Springs, in this county, are very gay now, there being between 125 and 140 visitors there from Owensboro, Louisville, Morgantown and Hartford.

The Muhlenberg circuit court began last Monday. We doubt the ability of any judge to deal out justice—such weather as this. It will melt before it can be administered.

Anderson's Bazaar has a few boys' suits that are slightly damaged by moth, which will be sold for almost nothing. Here is a good chance to get your boy a winter suit at a bargain.

The people of Ohio county will be glad to learn that the celebrated Stark boot will still be handled this winter by Anderson's Bazaar. Stark's name was here last week to get the Bazaar's order.

Mr. George R. Meyers, of Rockport, was appointed Constable in the Rockport Magisterial district, by Judge Maule. Verne Williams resigned. Mr. Meyers will make an attentive and efficient officer.

Mr. Lige Richardson accidentally cut his foot last Friday evening. He was rising out some timber with an axe and maul, when the axe flew out and struck him on the instep, cutting a considerable gash.

Rev. G. W. Eichelberger, an evangelist, will preach in the Baptist church at this place, Friday night. We will then make arrangements for a series of sermons. He comes highly recommended, and Hartford may expect to be treated to some very fine sermons. He was formerly a Presbyterian minister, but has now quit congregational work and is devoting his whole time to evangelizing.

With the addition of our new warehouse, we are enabled to handle country produce, meal, flour, bran, lard, salt, lime, etc. in large quantities, and will sell as cheap as the cheapest, as common and see us, Red Front.

Mr. John T. Martin has just returned from a week's trip to Butler and Warren counties. He says crops are in a splendid condition, have had plenty of rain, and some tobacco in Warren will have to be cut this week.

The trial of Herman Bennett and Kate Haffey for breach of the peace, on election day, came up before Judge J. S. Green, last Friday. Haffey was acquitted and Bennett was fined $10. Bennett was acquitted on the charge of carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

The colored folks' campmeeting, which is in progress here, is being held at the church in Hayti. It was their intention to hold the meeting at the Fair Grounds, but as the amphitheatre is being torn down they had to resort to the church.

A lawn party will be given at the residence of Mrs. Lue T. Collins, on next Friday night, for the benefit of the M. E. church. As the work of repairing has commenced, we trust every one will feel interested, and to all a cordial invitation is extended.

Messrs. Wm. H. King and J. C. Cook will give a grand tour to Miller's Bridge on the Miller's Mill road on Saturday, August 23rd, 1885. They promise a good dinner, nice refreshments, good music, a nice place for dancing and solicit a general attendance.

The Southern Exposition, Louisville, Ky. will open on the 15th inst., and continue to October 24th. The managers are endeavoring to make this the most entertaining Exposition ever held in Louisville. All railroad and steamboat lines leading into this city, will give special rates.

A destructive fire occurred at Haverhill last Thursday morning, destroying four brick and six frame buildings. Loss, $67,000; Insurance, $27,700. No cause is known, but indications point to incendiarism. The heaviest loss is Geo. Wilson. The Cannon fire company did good service.

Mr. Thomas Ebbel, of Elizabethtown, began yesterday in and repairs on the Methodist church here. He will have a full force and put the work through promptly. The proposed change will greatly improve the comfort and appearance of the church.

There was a young man in town last week bare-headed and bare-footed. He claimed to be a son of Jesus Christ, and had come to save sinners. His father, Mr. Sullenger found him in his tomato patch. When told to get out he said he was a privileged character, a son of Jesus Christ. He staid one day and disappeared.

The formal opening of the Henderson bridge took place last Thursday. Henderson was hospitality and gaily itself. People from all over the country were there. It was a grand success. The town was beautifully decorated, and all things were lovely. Toasts were drunk and responses made by prominent men.

Master Ned Berry, on his return from Florida, made us the recipient of a handsome plum from a lovely white crane—a southern bird of rare beauty. The plum is as pure white as snow flakes, and will not be placed in our cabinet of curiosities, as it is impossible to keep "hands off, but will be worn on a hat by one of the gentler sex.

Mr. W. C. Chapman, our esteemed friend, of Umattila, Florida, sent us the other day some specimens of limes, raised and matured in his grove in the noted land of fruits and flowers this year. They were the finest limes we ever saw, and it is needless to say we enjoyed the delicious best beverage they made. Many very many thanks for the kindly remembrance.

The Hartford House is now open for custom. The house has been newly furnished and thoroughly renovated. Its present proprietor, Mr. D. A. Miller, Jr., is a perfect gentleman, and all who stop with him will be treated politely and fed sumptuously. If you want to stop at a first-class hotel, this is the place for you. Accommodations the best and rates reasonable. 31 4t

The Ohio county fair will begin on Tuesday, September 8th, continuing five days. The Association will offer great inducements to exhibitors this year. Higher premiums, more of them, and entrance fees to exhibitors. Plenty of shade for stock, and water handy. The fair this year, we think, will be a grand success. The programmes are being printed at this office and will be out in a few days.

Mr. A. M. Hudson, the collector of the railroad tax for the Livernore precinct, was robbed on Monday morning of last week. The burglars expected to reap a rich harvest, as Mr. Hudson usually kept a considerable amount of money on hand. The robbers secured three or four dollars, a silver watch and a suit of clothes. Three young men were arrested in Calhoun, but were discharged, the proof failing to convict them.

We had hoped, in this issue, to announce the engagement of Miss Annie Waller, by the faculty of Hartford College, for the ensuing year, but we have learned that the salary demanded by the young lady is the obstacle delaying the matter. We do not think that this should be the case, that the faculty owe it to our people, and patrons of the school, who are always ready to give liberal, and well paid patronage to the musical department, if supplied with real artists, to provide first class talent in this department, and such judging from the enthusiasm of the press in Hopkins and other counties, we would take the lady to be. Let the people demand it, and the faculty strain a point to secure Miss Waller.

A negro boy named Charley Tanner, from Livernore, was in town some time ago and stole a silver watch from Mr. Charles Sullenger and escaped to Livernore where he belonged the watch to Mr. Jo. Thompson, a conductor on the O. & N. railroad. The marshal at Livernore recovered the watch, but the negro escaped and is still at large.

The Fair Association have a large force of hands at work tearing down the buildings at the old fair grounds, and building new ones at the new grounds. The new grounds are situated on a beautiful plain just across the creek from the town, not more than 350 yards from the Hartford House. The amphitheatre will be a beautiful building, 300 feet long, and 30 feet wide with seven tiers of seats. The building will be in the shade with beautiful park at the South end. The Association will not build but 100 stables now, but will build more next spring, the stables will be built in the shade and convenient to the creek.

ELECTION NOTES.

It is no longer Rev. or Dr. or Hon., but Senator Byers, if you please.

G. T. Bickley, Rep., was elected Representative of Logan county by 279 majority.

Hopkins county elected J. H. Lumsford, Rep., Representative by 215 majority.

W. L. Miller was elected constable in the Boone magisterial precinct, without opposition, at the recent election.

W. C. Welch was elected to represent Butler and Edmonson counties. He is a Republican and lives in Edmonson.

R. V. Bush, of Haysville, met with his usual luck. He was beaten for Representative by George Smith, Independent.

Hon. S. E. Hill carried Muhlenberg county by 335, Ohio by 310; total, 675.

Dr. Meador carried Butler county by 332. Hill is elected by a majority of 343 in the district.

R. Y. Thomas, Jr., editor of the Argus, Central City, was elected Representative of Muhlenberg county by 182 majority. His election under all the circumstances is a very high compliment to him.

D. H. Smith, of Laclede county, was elected to the Senate by 1,425 majority.

He carried every county in the district. Mr. Smith is well known to many of our readers, having been a student under Prof. Hayward here in 1872.

Tom J. A. Mumford will have in a day or two for his post office at Vancouver, Washington Territory.

Mr. Mumford's office is worth, including perquisites, about $2,300 a year, besides transportation. It gives him moreover an opportunity of gratifying a desire, which he has long entertained, of becoming acquainted with the far west. His duties will consist in investigating fraudulent land entries.

Shooting at Livernore.

George Priest and Henry Driskill had a shooting affray at Livernore August 21, all on account of an old trouble. Several years ago, while Priest was sick, Driskill acted the good Samaritan by sitting up with him, and while doing so, wrought Priest's anger. As soon as Priest found it out, he asked Driskill about it, Driskill acknowledged it, and Priest shot at him, and would have killed him if his pistol had not been arrested by a third party. In the meantime Driskill made his escape. Recently Driskill had been at Central City on a spree, and concluded he would go down to Livernore and kill Priest. Priest was notified of his threat and armed himself. Driskill saw him on the street and called to him to stop. At the third call, Priest turned around, drew his pistol and ordered Driskill to hold up his hands. Driskill in answer drew his pistol and then the thing began. Each fired five shots without effect. Driskill then retreated to Whitaker's saloon to reload his pistol. Whitaker told him to get out, but that Driskill pointed his pistol at Whitaker and would have shot him but for a fault of the hammer. Whitaker took the pistol from Driskill and struck him over the head with it, cutting a considerable gash. Driskill was taken to the Calhoun jail for safe keeping, as he would have certainly been mobbed at Livernore. Priest is a cripple, and is an honorable, upright young man.

Another Empty Pistol.

At Edlyville, Ernest Lander, one of the assistant superintendents of construction of the branch penitentiary, was accidentally shot and killed by John D. Lester, the warden of the camp. Mr. Lander had just cleaned his pistol and handed it to Lester, with the suggestion that he try it. Lester took the pistol in his hand, pulled the trigger and a prompt explosion followed, the disarmed ball entering Mr. Lander's left breast, close to the nipple, and passing through the heart, producing almost instant death. Lander was a most estimable young man, thirty-three years of age, and unmarried.

The Hartford Band.

The Hartford Brass Band furnished the music at the Old Fellows' Festival last Saturday, and it was pronounced the best to which our people had been treated for many summers. The music was the chief attraction of the day, and the "Hartford boys" in their neat uniform carried off the honors. The band is composed of handsome young gentlemen, pleasant and courteous, who handle horns and drums with a musical blow and scientific touch. Those who want good music, we heartily commend the Hartford Band.

Held Over.

E. F. Smith and E. K. Smith, had an examining trial before Judge McKinley and Charles L. Fields last Wednesday, for cutting Eli Taylor on election day, an amount of which appeared in our last issue. County Attorney H. B. Kinsolving, prosecuted and R. A. Stevens defended, urging that the cutting was done in sudden heat and passion, but the court thought different and held them on bonds of $500 each for cutting with intent to kill. They gave bonds to answer at circuit court.

A Circus Rider's Victory.

(The Sportsman.)

There is a good story told of a visit of Robinson, the famous circus rider, to London fifteen years ago. He had been engaged at a salary of $2,000 a week to ride in Astley's Royal Amphitheatre, in London. For weeks before he arrived he was heralded as the greatest horseback equestrian of the age. To assume himself to be so with him a team of American trotting horses and a light buggy, but neglected to bring such horses as he would need to ride. This oversight, however, was not a serious one, as the English managers, who thought their contract of course, included the furnishing of horses. Robinson made light of the matter, and said he could break the animals to his liking in the fortnight intervening between his arrival and the date of his debut. There was nothing left for the managers to do than to swallow their disappointment and provide him with horses. These he released day after day at the circus with skill and audacity, but to find at last that they were beasts far inferior in intelligence to the Kentucky thoroughbreds with which he was accustomed to deal. The night of the first appearance of the American champion arrived. The great building bearing the historical name of Astley was packed to suffocation to see the performance of the reckless rider from over the sea. Robinson had, however, in the short time allowed, been utterly unable to train the English horses to his acts, and as a consequence was at a sad disadvantage what he attempted. The best features of his acts, including the vaulting, he failed to do. The audience hurried him back from the ring with blows. Weeks passed, James Robinson, who had in the meantime been the butt of ridicule, was forgotten. Nightly he was turning flip-flop in his seat with a pack of monkeys, some of whom did not know that among their number was the best rider in the world. About the time that the monkeys about the circus establishment began to whisper that they guessed that "dashed Yankee" could ride a little bit after all, Robinson called on the manager, "I wish," he said, "that you would fill me to re-appear next Monday night. I would like to try to redeem my reputation. If I don't succeed I'll pack up and go home." With more than a misgiving the posters were pasted up over London's dark walls. Again there was an unusual throng to have their share at the presumptuous fellow whom everybody thought had long before gone back. But the dashing American made them laugh on the other side of their mouths. The display of equestrianism which he gave threw the house into an ecstasy of delight. The way he vaulted on and off the backs of the flying steeds electrified the frigid hearts before him. He had after all made his mark in London town. The newspapers rang with his praise and spoke of his previous failure as a remarkable reminiscence. The Astley people were glad enough to renew the original contract to retain the American rider, who returned home two years later, with a European reputation and fifty thousand dollars to boot.

Testimony of Judge C. F. Lynch.

(Henderson's Hearings.)

I was a sufferer for twenty years with tetter, it covering my entire person. It was exceedingly painful and annoying. I tried every known remedy within reach, but to no permanent profit. My health became wrecked. The doctors could help me, but could not cure me, and under the old time treatment the disease continued to grow worse and the itching became almost unbearable. I read the statement of Mr. Lewis Lee as to what Swift's Specific had done for him in a case of tetter, and I concluded that it might help me. I commenced its use; the sores have all dried up, and the skin of my body has smoothed off, and I am in better health than I ever was, and there is not a vestige of the disease left, save a few spots on one of my hands, and they are rapidly disappearing. Swift's Specific is the greatest medicine in the world. It has brought me relief after twenty years of suffering. It is the best blood purifier I have ever used, and I most cheerfully commend it to the suffering.

Good Results in Every Case.

(D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes, that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; but tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so, and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at Griffin & Bro.'s Drug Store.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Send by mail, enclosing with the receipt of postage, ten cents, and you will receive it. Write to Dr. J. C. F. Lynch, 113 Bowry St., New York, N. Y.

Practical Questions.

Mythical ideas are fanning the public brow with the breath of prejudice, ignorance and delusion. Have you the remotest idea that a law was ever created by the use of potash and mercury? No matter what the cause, B. B. B. is the peer of all other remedies. Do you presume that your troublesome catarrh is the result of mineral poisoning? B. B. B. is the quickest remedy. Are your chronic ulcers and boils and sores the result of potash and mercury? Medical gentlemen will not tell you so, but B. B. B. is the only sovereign remedy. Were your terrible kidney troubles created by mineral poisoning? Not a bit of it, but B. B. B. has proven to be a reliable remedy. Are your skin diseases, your eczema, dry tetter, etc., the effect of too much potash and mercury? The medical profession are the best judges, and they say, yes, but B. B. B. makes you pronounced cures than all other preparations combined.

He Once Lived in Kentucky.

(Commercial Gazette.)

In tending the places where he lived General U. S. Grant has lived I have never seen Germanism, broken country, Kentucky, named. In about the year 1851 Jesse R. Grant routed William C. Curren's battery, of that place, and moved there with his family, and his son U. S. Grant, was a member of that family then and there. It was his home. Ulysses assisted his father in the tannery. Dr. W. S. Penn, of Batavia, O., can doubtless give you all the particulars.

CINCINNATI, July 19, 1885.

If we want a place in this world we must earn it. The partridge makes its own nest before it occupies it; the lark, by its morning song, earns its breakfast before it eats it; and the bee intimates that the first duty of an idler is to starve when it says if he "will not work, neither shall he eat." Idleness ruins the health, and very soon Nature says, "This man has refused to pay his rent; out with him!"—Dr. Talmage.

Duty of Legislators.

(Extract from a lecture delivered by John Collins at Rock House, Ky.)

"The more I learn of intoxication the greater an I am surprised that the people of the United States will allow so damnable a cause to reign through the land. An honest man can justify the liquor traffic. So visible is its poisoning opposition to everything pure and good, that an honest being can be blind to the fact that it should be suppressed. Allow me to say, and I say it conscientiously, that I doubt the integrity of that legislator who refuses to use his influence toward the prohibition of this demoralizing trade. Why? Because he knows that it is annually bringing thousands to untimely death; that it is crowding our prisons with bloody criminals; that it is bringing poverty, grief and despair to thousands of homes; that it is barring the progress of Christianity; that it is corrupting the ballot, and threatening the permanence of our nation. How long will its poisonous sting infect our homes? How long must our land be shrouded with crimes that should be prevented? How long will the prayers of the oppressed be lost in vain to the powers that be, for justice and moral protection?"

Initiation into African Brotherhood.

(Shanty's New Book.)

Generally the first day of acquaintance with the Congo river tribes is devoted to chatting, summing up one another's principles, and getting at one another's ideas. The chief entertains his guests with gifts of food, goats, beer, fish, etc., then on the next day commences business and reciprocal exchange of gifts. So it was with Iroko. Mangombo gave him hairy thin-tailed sheep, two glorious bunches of bananas, two great pots of beer, and the usual accompaniments of small stores. The next day we made blood brotherhood. The fetish-man picked one of our right arms, pressed the blood out, then, with a pinch of scrapings from my gunstock, a little salt, a few dusty scrapings from a long pipe, dropped over the wounded arm, and the black and white arms were mutually rubbed together. The fetish-man took the long pipe in his hand and slightly touched our necks, our heads, our arms and our legs, uttering rapidly his litany of incantations. What was left of the medicine Mangombo and I carefully folded in a banana leaf, and we were it reverently between us to a banana grove near by, and buried the dust out of sight. Mangombo, now my brother, by solemn interchange of blood, consecrated to my service as I was devoted to the sacred fetish bond to his service, revealed his trouble and helped my aid.

An End to Bone Scraping.

(Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

(Commercial Gazette.)

In tending the places where he lived General U. S. Grant has lived I have never seen Germanism, broken country, Kentucky, named. In about the year 1851 Jesse R. Grant routed William C. Curren's battery, of that place, and moved there with his family, and his son U. S. Grant, was a member of that family then and there. It was his home. Ulysses assisted his father in the tannery. Dr. W. S. Penn, of Batavia, O., can doubtless give you all the particulars.

CINCINNATI, July 19, 1885.

If we want a place in this world we must earn it. The partridge makes its own nest before it occupies it; the lark, by its morning song, earns its breakfast before it eats it; and the bee intimates that the first duty of an idler is to starve when it says if he "will not work, neither shall he eat." Idleness ruins the health, and very soon Nature says, "This man has refused to pay his rent; out with him!"—Dr. Talmage.

Helpless Upon a Friendless Sea.

(The Traveller.)

Who, in taking passage in a great trans-Atlantic steamer, does not feel a thrill of excitement over her magnificent power. Against her the Storm King may hurl his elemental forces, nor pierce her armor, nor stop her onward course.

But let me describe a scene when, one morning in mid-ocean, there came an alarm from the pilot house followed by a cry: "The ship's boiler is hot!" From the confident expression, consternation came to every face. The watchman being helpless to direct her course, the vessel was at the mercy of wind and wave.

The captain had been negligent—the hangings of the boiler were allowed to wear weak, and suddenly it had dropped deep into the sea!

Strong in intellect, in physical vigor, in energy and ambition, man confronts undaunted, gigantic tasks and commands applause for his magnificent achievements. But, all unexpectedly, an alarm comes—the order of his constitution is gone. He has been careless of its preservation; mental strain, nervous excitement, irregular habits, over-work, have destroyed the action of his kidneys and liver. This would not occur were Warner's safe cure used to maintain vigor. And even now it may restore vitality in these organs and give back to the man that which will lead him to the haven of his ambition.

An End to Bone Scraping.

(Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Important.

The following is a list of soldiers, originally from Kentucky, who fell at the battle of the Alamo, Texas. The heirs of either of them can learn something of great interest by addressing the editor of the Herald:

Good Results in Every Case.

(D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes, that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; but tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so, and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at Griffin & Bro.'s Drug Store.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Send by mail, enclosing with the receipt of postage, ten cents, and you will receive it. Write to Dr. J. C. F. Lynch, 113 Bowry St., New York, N. Y.

Practical Questions.

Mythical ideas are fanning the public brow with the breath of prejudice, ignorance and delusion. Have you the remotest idea that a law was ever created by the use of potash and mercury? No matter what the cause, B. B. B. is the peer of all other remedies. Do you presume that your troublesome catarrh is the result of mineral poisoning? B. B. B. is the quickest remedy. Are your chronic ulcers and boils and sores the result of potash and mercury? Medical gentlemen will not tell you so, but B. B. B. is the only sovereign remedy. Were your terrible kidney troubles created by mineral poisoning? Not a bit of it, but B. B. B. has proven to be a reliable remedy. Are your skin diseases, your eczema, dry tetter, etc., the effect of too much potash and mercury? The medical profession are the best judges, and they say, yes, but B. B. B. makes you pronounced cures than all other preparations combined.

Listen to Your Wife.

The Manchester Guardian, June 26, 1885, says: "At one of the 'Widows'."

Looking on the woodland ways, with clumps of rhododendrons and great masses of May hollyhocks! "There was an interesting group."

It included one who had been a "cotton spinner," but was now a "cotton planter." This refers to my case.

It was a disease of the nervous system, and for several years was largely able to get about.

And for the last five years not able to attend to my business, although many things have been done for me. The last experiment being nerve stretching, two years ago I was voted into the "Home for Invalids" near Manchester, in May, 1882.

I am an "Advocate" for anything in the shape of "patent" medicine! And made many objections to my dear wife's constant urging to try Hop Bitters, but finally to pacify her—

Consented!

I had not quite finished the first bottle when I felt a change come over me. This was Saturday, Nov. 4. On Sunday morning I felt so strong I said to my room companions, "I was sure 'I could walk!'"

So started across the floor and back I hardly knew how to contain myself. I was all over the house I am gaining strength each day and can walk safely without any "stick" or support.

I am now at my own house and hope soon to be able to earn my own living again. I have been cured of the Manchester "Widows' Exchange."

For nearly thirty years and was heartily congratulated on going into the room Thursday last. Very gratefully yours, MANCHESTER (Eng) Dec 21, 1882. Two years later on perfectly well.

Preserve the Kidneys!

When you call for Hop Bitters (see green clasp of hops on the white label) the drug store hands out one of Dr. J. C. F. Lynch's Hop Bitters, or with other "Hop" name, refuse it and show that druggist your money for the stuff, hold him for the fraud and let him find out that the swindler will reward you liberally for the conviction.

"No one liveth to himself," an apostle declares. Whether the man thinks of it or not, he yields an unconscious influence. His words, his manners, his acts make an impression upon others. In the household, in the counting room, in the workshop, this silent power makes itself felt. According as his life is controlled by godly or ungodly principles, this influence will be for good or for evil, and he will be a blessing or a curse in the circle where he moves.—Christian Secretary.
